Sunday School Snippets

In the first five chapters of Romans, Paul discussed the reality of sin and the good news of justification by faith. Chapter six introduces what the life of a believer should look like because of justification. Romans 6:1-14 explains that grace from sin doesn't excuse believers from living however they want. Rather, believers should consider themselves dead to sin and alive to God, offering themselves as instruments for righteousness.

In preparation for the study this week, reflect on the ways you exhibit your new life in Christ in all aspects of life—your thoughts, words, attitudes, and actions. Where does God's grace fit into your life as you try to devote yourself to Him each day?
